

The Analyst Insight Workshop

Saturday 17th & Sunday 18th of November 2007
Brisbane Australia

Learn how to identify major turning points and maximise your profits

At this workshop, Jason Sidney will teach you a range of powerful trading and technical analysis techniques. He will also show you how to apply these techniques to your trading. The workshop will give you the opportunity to learn in detail how these techniques can be used to identify major turning points in financial markets and help you to maximize your profit earning potential.

Attending the workshop will give you the opportunity to absorb the concepts in a face-to-face environment and on a level not possible with written lessons. Jason Sidney has become well known for his ability to convey highly technical information in a way that the average person can use and understand.

To insure you have fully understood the principles covered during the workshop you will also receive a three (3) month follow up subscription to the Analyst Insight mentoring newsletter. This newsletter uses current market examples to explain many of the techniques discussed at the workshop. This bonus is valued at $240.

Once mastered, the study of charts and technical analysis can be a powerful and formidable tool that can enhance your trading results and elevate you to a new level of awareness that can have a remarkable effect on your trading income.

Speaker Profile

In addition to his work with Market Masters, Jason Sidney is the Managing Director of Market Insight Pty Ltd. For many years, Jason had the privilege to be personally mentored by Neil Costa.

Jason Sidney, QLD President and past director of the Australian Technical Analyst Association, is a professional technical analyst with over 12 years' experience in the financial services industry. He lectures for the Financial Institute of Australasia (Finsia), the leading provider of professional financial services education in Australia and New Zealand. Jason also produces a fortnightly subscription newsletter, "Analyst Insight". This newsletter uses current market examples to explain advanced technical analysis techniques. He gains great satisfaction from conveying highly technical information in a way that the average person can use and understand.

Jason's experience, knowledge and standing in the industry has made him a regular contributor to a number of leading publications. These have included "Your Trading Edge", "Chart Point", "The Traders Journal" and "The Weekend Australian".

He has also been interviewed on international talk back radio and has been a key-note speaker at many industry expositions.

'I would still be looking at it as nothing more than a correction at this stage'

Jason Sidney, Market Insight managing director

However, Market Insight managing director Jason Sidney said his charts showed the share market was still holding its long-term trend lines.

His view was that the down movements on the bourse were only a correction, which could last for up to three months.

"I would still be looking at it as nothing more than a correction at this stage," Mr Sidney said.

"The upside to that is it will present a number of buying opportunities for some stocks.

"There is support running for the S&P/ASX 200 at 4814.

"But if it breaks that, that would be of concern and could suggest a possible end to the bull run."
